3rd IEEE International Conference on

Artificial Intelligence for Internet of Things
AIIoT 2024

Keynote Address:
Human-centered approach for AI & IoT

Dr. Markku Turunen,
Faculty of Information Technology
& Communication Sciences,
Tampere University, Finland

Hybrid Mode
03 – 04, May 2024

Markku Turunen, a senior professor of Interactive Technology at Tampere University, brings 25 years of expertise in interactive systems and human-technology interaction. With a remarkable portfolio of about 250 publications and oversight of 80 research projects, he presently spearheads the international master's program "Sustainable Societies and Digitalization." Collaborating extensively with Indian institutions such as IIT-Delhi, IIT-Bombay, IIT-Guwahati and IISc (Bangalore), he has established enduring partnerships over the past decade. Heading the Pervasive Interaction research group, he explores multimodal interaction and pervasive computing. His research interests span embodied and spatial interaction, user experience evaluation, and accessibility, among others. At Tampere University, Markku's leadership extends several Finnish-Indian collaboration networks, reflecting his commitment to advancing global educational initiatives.
