

Dr. Sankaraiah Sreeramula (Dr. Sankar) is the Founder and CEO of Turilytix.AI and a Professor of Practice at the School of Computer Science, VIT, with 18+ years of global experience in artificial intelligence and data science across public and private sectors. He specializes in translating advanced AI, machine learning, and analytics into real-world, high-impact solutions for industries including manufacturing, FMCG, retail, finance, and technology. A seasoned industry and academic leader, he has driven large-scale AI adoption, authored 20+ research publications, filed patents, delivered 200+ invited talks and workshops, and contributed to nationally important research projects. His work and leadership have been widely recognized through international awards, global media appearances, and advisory roles, reflecting his strong commitment to innovation, applied research, and bridging academia with industry.

Dr. Sankaraiah Sreeramula, PhD

IEEE Senior Member

Global Business & Data Advisory Board Member

Founder & CEO, Turilytix.ai

Formerly

Professor of Practice – School of Computer Science & Engineering

Chief Data Scientist – Industrial AI & Analytics

Recognitions

Featured among Top Innovative Leaders and Global AI Thought Leaders by international business and technology forums

<https://www.coriniumintelligence.com/global-advisory-board>

