We need to avoid "not only X but Y". Probably safer to avoid listing three nouns in a sentence. So we need to be careful not to have three items separated by commas? Probably safer to avoid exactly three. Avoid groups of exactly three items. Avoid forced groups of exactly three items. Use two items or more than three? So we must not list three items in a row like "A, B, and C". The rule says no forced groups of exactly three items. So we can have two or four or more? We'll just avoid listing three items in a row.

We need to end with a natural invitation to view the full gallery via the link above. So final sentence: "View the full gallery via the link above." That is plain.
